Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 19 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mostly cloudy, windy and mild with spells of rain.

Today:
Rain at first, perhaps easing through the morning to give some drier and brighter interludes. Further pulses of rain are possible through the day, especially in the west. Windy and mild for all. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Occasional outbreaks of rain overnight, leaving most places cloudy and damp. Remaining mild and windy, with coastal gales possible around Essex, Suffolk and Norfolk. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Wednesday:
Another cloudy and damp day on Wednesday with further outbreaks of rain and drizzle. Staying mild and windy for all, with coastal gales possible. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Rain clearing early Thursday then cold and windy with sunny spells and a few showers, continuing through Friday. Lighter winds on Saturday, bright at first but cloudy with rain later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.